BLACKSTONE MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

BLACKSTONE LIBRARY.

The above cut represents the Blackstone Memorial Library. It was presented to the town of Branford by Mr. Timothy B. Blackstone of Chicago as a memorial of his father, Mr. James Blackstone, who was an honored and life long resident of Branford. Although some project of the kind had been often talked of in Branford, its first real inception dates from the efforts of Rev. M. K. Bailey, formerly rector of Trinity Church, to found a reading room or center for the younger men of the town to assemble. This project, meeting with but slow financial response, a committee was formed, consisting of Mr. Alfred E. Hammer, Mr. Lester J. Nichols and Dr. C. W. Gaylord, to confer personally or by letter with several who having gone out from Branford might still have an interest in their native town and birthplace. Out of these negotiations developed the offer of a gift to the town of a free library building and library for same, and the following were appointed by Mr. Timothy Blackstone to hold the same in trust for the benefit of the town: T. F. Hammer, Edward F. Jones, C. W. Gaylord, M. D., Edmund Zacher, William Regan, Henry W. Hubbard, ex-officio, Addison Van Name, librarian of Yale.

The Library building is in the form of a Latin cross and is constructed of pink marble from Tennessee, the inside fittings being of the same material, while doors and railings are of solid bronze. The floors throughout are of mosaic, while the wall surfaces, rotunda, dome, etc., will be decorated with mural paintings, representing the development of the human race as shown in their art ideals.

The building is 160 feet long by 140 feet wide and consists of two stories and basement. In the basement are the gymnasium and bath rooms, the store rooms and the boilers and engine room. gas machines and electric light plant. On the first floor are the reading, students', catalogue and librarian's rooms, shelves for 20,000 books, and a lecture hall with stage and gallery above. On the second floor are the reception, directors', retiring rooms, and art galleries.

The reading room is liberally supplied with the best literature of the day, and its use, together with that of the library, is free to all inhabitants of Branford.

This beautiful building is situated on the main street on a rising knoll of ground, and will never be mistaken for a jail or church, a bank or asylum; its purpose and mission (literature and art) showing plainly from moulded base course to carved acroterium and restful dome.

Librarian, Mr. Arthur W. Tyler; Assistant Librarian, Miss Susie A. Hutchinson.
